ROAD TO SOUTH IS IN FINE SHAPE SAYS BOARD

The Fight Game

Fair Commission issues Statement That Participants in Endurance Run Have Easy Sailing

In order to compete in all events that the road from this city meets has been placed in ready exterior shape, the fair commission has issued a statement which sets forth that for more than a month past three crews have been at work on the highway, another down high center, others on the covering stones and others on the road in the fine riding shape. This work has been done under the supervision of the state highway board, with special reference to the endurance run participants. It was done during the week just past.

By sending this news through the state the commission expects to attract a number of automobile parties to the city during the fair.

Word from Denver comes that the road from that section has been placed in good shape, that is, that all roughness and ruts have been taken out and that there need be but little if any difficulty experienced in getting into this city, provided drivers use reasonable care in negotiating the turns in the Tijeras canyon.

Word from Carlsbad is that the road from there is in good condition, so that it is possible to negotiate most of it without changing gears. Arrangements have been made to have plenty of gasoline on hand at Carlsbad, with men and garage facilities, to care for the cars which will make the endurance run. The crew which went out from Eagle two wagons and teams and a number of men, is still at work on the highway to Carlsbad. They will finish, however, this week, and by that time will have done a great deal of good to the road.

These crews have been doing what is really maintenance work, not construction, but as it is maintenance, or rather the lack of it, that caused this highway to deteriorate, it is expected that it will be in excellent condition for the endurance run.

Boeing, bleeding, protruding or kind piles have yielded to Don's Guttae, like at all stores.

TWO HUNDRED CARS MAY TAKE PART IN PARADE

Ninety Automobiles Already Promised For Illuminated Pageant; Cars in Endurance Run Expected to Help

In the illuminated automobile parade to be held one evening during the fair, probably Wednesday, more than 90 cars have already been promised as participants. This parade will be a very brilliant affair, the entire appropriation allotted to it being spent for decorations and fireworks instead of being given as prizes.

The committee in charge has found that it is much easier to secure autos to take part in this event since it has become generally known that there are no prizes to be given, no decisions to be made, and no consequent heartburnings.

The sixth was McGoorty's round, severest, hard left swings meeting Klaus' body and jaw. Both men appeared tired in the seventh, but McGoorty got in several hard lefts at the close of the round.

The Oshkosh showed best in the eighth, using both hands to the jaw and body with good effect. Round nine was even, McGoorty was bleeding freely. The tenth round was the hardest of the battle, both seeming unable to land a knockout. McGoorty stopped Klaus frequently with stiff lefts to the jaw while Klaus countered with left body punches. Klaus was tired at the end and his left eye was practically closed.

New Orleans, La.—Mike Glover, the Boston welterweight, outfought Young Deany, of New Orleans, for the first eight rounds of their ten-round bout before the New Orleans Athletic Club last night. Deany seemed to get the better as the fight proceeded and the last two rounds were his. No decision was given.

Milwaukee—Ad Wolgast, of Cadillac, Mich., and Battling Nelson, two former lightweight champions, came to an agreement and signed articles for a ten round no-decision boxing contest to be held here Oct. 13. The men will weigh in at 123 pounds at eight o'clock.

Polar Bear Ice-Bound. Seattle, Wash., Sept. 30.—Mrs. Louise Lane, wife of the commander and owner of the power schooner Polar Bear, recovered a cable message from Nome saying that the vessel had been frozen in near Pleasant Island in longitude 148° at the mouth of Canning River.

The Polar Bear carried a party of sportsmen and moving picture men, including Eben S. Draper, Jr., of Massachusetts. They hoped to reach Coronation Gulf, where the blue eyed Eskimos live, before being frozen in, but had covered little more than half the distance before the ship was clutched by the ice.

The series of special sermons by Rabbi Mendel Silber will mark observance of Greatest Jewish Festival.

The celebration of the Jewish New Year, whose formal observance will begin at 7:45 tomorrow evening in Temple Ahabah, will be featured by a series of special sermons by Rabbi Mendel Silber. The festival itself, Rosh Hashanah, is probably the most important and best known of the Hebrew observances.

The series will be on the "significance of Life." The first, which will be delivered tomorrow evening, is on the "Meaning of Life." The others will come at different times during the festival: "The Philosophy of Life," Thursday morning; the "Message of Life," Friday evening; the following Friday evening the "Tragedy of Life," and on the Saturday morning following the "Comedy of Life." Saturday evening, a week later, the "Prophecy of Life" will close the series.

During the services a special choir, with Mrs. Winn, soprano; Mrs. Henderson, alto; Mr. Rogers, tenor, and Mr. Falkenburg, bass, will sing. Mrs. Kahn will act as accompanist.

All persons will be welcome at the services.

The feast of Rosh Hashanah will be observed by all Jews. It will continue to October 22, when the feast of conclusion or Shemini Tizeroh marks its end. The feast marks the anniversary of the creation of the world, held to have taken place 5,675 years ago tomorrow.

The day is one set apart by Jews for introspection and is sometimes called the "Day of Memorial." The principal ceremony in the synagogue is the blowing of the trumpets enjoined in Leviticus.

In the Reform synagogue the ceremony lasts only twenty-four hours but orthodox Jews observe it for the full period.
